

Subject: Investment Opportunity Alert: Clean Energy Fund

Body: We've identified a compelling new investment opportunity in a clean energy infrastructure fund that we believe offers strong growth potential and aligns with our clients' increasing interest in sustainable investing. The fund invests in a diversified portfolio of solar, wind, and hydropower projects, generating consistent revenue streams from long-term power purchase agreements. This provides a defensive and predictable income component to the strategy. A detailed prospectus outlining the fund's objectives, investment strategy, and management team is available upon request. We believe this is an excellent opportunity to diversify your portfolio while supporting the global transition to a low-carbon economy. Please let us know if you would like to receive the full prospectus.